National Suicide Prevention Lifeline 800-273-TALK (8255) or call 911 24 hours/7 days a week

If you or someone you know is experiencing warning signs, it's important to get help right away. The first step is to talk to a counselor. Contact HealthAdvocate for confidential support and resources. You can also contact the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline.

Warning Signs:

Talking or writing about suicide – Hints like "You'll be better off without me"

- Withdrawal from friends or family – saying or feeling like "They just don't understand me"
- Expressing hopelessness – Ongoing sadness, rage, desire for revenge, or feeling trapped, worthless, or guilty
- Painful life events – such as loss of relationship
- Changes in behavior – including disinterest in pleasurable activities, or giving away prized possessions
- Taking action – seeking access to a weapon, pills or other means to harm oneself
